GUIDELINES FOR ADJUDGING RGM BEST PERFORMING STATE AWARD

1. Preamble:

In India, the livestock production and agriculture are inherently linked; they complement each other and both are crucial for the overall food security of the people. Livestock are considered vital for livelihood security of the poor and vulnerable population. Global food demand is ever increasing due to exponential increase in population while the agricultural productivity is declining, largely due to shrinking of resources particularly cultivable land. Under such a situation, role of livestock sector to fulfill growing food demand is of paramount importance in terms of nutritional security and employment generation.

Over the last two decades, the changes within cattle population indicate a radical shift from work animals to milk production. India has made phenomenal progress in world milk production over the last one and a half decade. But there are wide inter-state variations in milk production and productivity. For instance, Punjab has the highest productivity of crossbred and indigenous cattle while Tamil Nadu has the highest productivity of exotic cattle. Uttar Pradesh is the top ranking state in milk production as well as top AI performer of the country. Thus there is no convergence among the states in productivity. Despite a number of schemes on new reproductive technologies having been introduced for enhancing the reproductive performances of dairy cattle, there is a wide variation among the states in implementation. Some States are lagging behind in overall breeding performance. Therefore there is a need to raise the spirit of the States to outperform in animal husbandry activities. Hence this award is proposed to be instituted.
